No. 1720.—The following bye-laws for the regulation or prohibition of the stabling or herding of animals in Lucknow Cantonment framed by the Cantonment Board Lucknow in exercise of the powers conferred by clause (11) of sections 282 and 283 of the Cantonments Act, 1924 (II of 1924), are published for general information the same having been previously published, approved and confirmed by the Central Government as required by sub-section (1) of section 284 of the said Act, namely:—

Bye-laws for the Stabling or Herding of Animals in the Lucknow Cantonment

- Definition.—In these bye-laws—

- "stable" means any house, shed, building or room in a house, shed or building in which horses, ponies, mules or donkeys are lodged and fed;
- "cow house" means a house, shed or building or room in a house, shed or building in which horned cattle are lodged and fed.

2. No premises within the Cantonment shall be used as a stable, cow house or as accommodation for sheep and goats, unless written permission has been obtained from the Cantonment Board for its use for this purpose.

3. Every person desiring to use any premises for the stabling or herding of any animal shall apply to the Cantonment Board, who after inspection may either grant permission in accordance with the following bye-laws or for reasons to be recorded in writing, refuse it. The number of animals to be lodged or picketted in any premises shall be determined by the Executive Officer.

4. No permission shall be granted for the use of any premises as a stable or cow-house of which any stall is less than 8 feet in height, 8 feet in width and 10 feet in length; provided that permission may be granted for the use of an existing stall of less dimensions if, in the opinion of the Cantonment Board, it is provided with sufficient drainage windows or other openings communicating with the external air so as to ensure proper lighting and ventilation, and is suitable for the purpose for which it is intended. No permission shall be granted for the use of premises for the accommodation of sheep or goats, unless a space of at least 120 cubic feet is allowed for each animal.

5. The floors of all premises to be used for the stabling or herding of animals must be adequately paved with asphalt, stone brick on-edge flooring in 1:6 cement mortar, and covered with $1\frac{1}{2}$ " P.C.C. with cement pointing, flagstones set in cement or with some other suitable impervious material approved by the Cantonment Board. The floor shall slope towards, and end in a drainage channel leading to a moveable receptacle placed over a cemented platform to be provided by the owner or occupier of any such stable or cow-house.

6. No permission shall be granted in respect of any premises situated beneath any building used for human habitation unless the ceiling of such premises is separated from the floor of such building by an unbroken layer of at least 3 inches of concrete, stone, brick or mud.

7. No permission shall be granted in respect of any premises situated within 100 feet of any bakery or licensed butcher's shop, or any other place where food or drink is prepared or manufactured for sale to the public, if in the opinion of the Cantonment Board the grant of such permission is considered harmful.

8. Every owner or occupier of any premises used as a stable or as a cow-house shall deposit, or cause to be deposited, dispose of or cause to be disposed of, all the dung and dried refuse in such places as the Executive Officer may fix for this purpose. No dung or liquid matter or water used for washing the premises shall be permitted to flow into any public drain, nor shall it be deposited in any public receptacle.

9. No premises in respect of which permission has been granted for the stabling or herding of animals under these bye-laws shall be used as a place for human habitation.

10. Every owner or occupier of premises used for the stabling or herding of animals shall cause such premises to be cleaned out daily and the walls and ceiling thereof to be lime-washed at least twice yearly.

11. Any permission granted under these bye-laws may be suspended or cancelled by the Cantonment Board for a breach of any of the conditions made under these bye-laws.

12. Any person committing a breach of any of these bye-laws shall, on conviction by a Magistrate, be punishable with fine which may extend to fifteen rupees and, in the case of a continuing contravention with an additional fine which may extend to one rupee for every day during which such contravention continues after conviction for the first such contravention.
